Miss Edith Clark
Radio Station WCSR
Smith College
Northampton, Massachusetts

Dear Miss Clark:

Since your academic year is coming to a close, I believe we should clarify the account for WCSR.

As you will recall, you verbally authorized us to carry on the monthly service and parts, other than needles, at $300 for the school year 1950 - 1951, to be paid in 10-month installments of $30 each. In addition, in October you authorized the construction of an equalizing line amplifier for $250. Payment on this item was to be made on an installment basis of $50 per month.

As the accounts now stand, there is a total outstanding bill against the radio station of $381. As of January 1, this account showed $280, of which $250 was for the line amplifier and $30 for the monthly service. Since January 1, there has been only one payment made, that of $35 on March 21. In other words, none of the monthly billings of this year have been paid; nor have there been any payments on the line amplifier.

Will you please within the next ten days write us concerning future payments on this account. We feel that this entire account should be cleared up before the school year closes.

Very truly yours,

Albert D. King

Saying I was very sorry & that I had never given it to you; that you had promised to get it paid by graduation (first on your list) & I would keep reminding you that which will make me a child and of the last and greatest acquisition which will trust or lost I should be without all my possessions than this which will not be lost nor all which I have and which is the greatest gift I can give to others, which is to startle and alarm the soul of man - God's own creation and bring him to a knowledge of his own self and that he himself is not willing to be satisfied with the things God has placed around him or the power of any other creature but that he who has enough will be more than a hundred times better off than he who has one thousand times more. A person who is satisfied with what he has given to him by God is not fit to be a man and such men have no true religion, who is satisfied with what God has given him and who has no true religion, is not fit to be a man.

What greater gift can there be than to have the love of God in your heart and that of all creation who are created by God and that is the best of gifts

and the best

and the best
